

Summary of UCC Form Changes

The International Association of Commercial Administrators (IACA) approved new versions of UCC forms for use by states beginning on July 1, 2023. The summaries below provide valuable information to help you navigate this changing landscape.

More information on state-by-state form rules can be found here.

Changes to UCC1 form

- Changed “filer” to “submitter” in Items A and B.
- Added label that interested parties must contact the secured party for information about the financing statement rather than the party listed in Items A, B, and C.
- Deleted additional carbon copy pages.

Changes to UCC1AD form

- Deleted additional carbon copy pages.

Changes to UCC3 form

- Changed “filer” to “submitter” in Items A and B.
- Added label that interested parties must contact the secured party for information about the financing statement rather than the party listed in Items A, B, and C.
- Deleted the “Party Information Change” box in Item 5 as redundant.
- Deleted “Collateral Change” box in Item 8 as redundant.
- Added instruction for “ASSIGN collateral” box in Item 8 to clarify that it’s used with the assignment and is not a collateral amendment. Also note: the instruction is on the same line as “Indicate collateral” so it will not interfere with a rectangular text box below that line.
- Deleted additional carbon copy pages.

Changes to UCC3AD form

- Modified Item 14 so the filer can indicate whether the field is used for additional collateral or other information (such as information about a trust).
- Deleted additional carbon copy pages.

Changes to UCC11 form

- Changed “filer” to “submitter” in Item A and B.
- Condensed all of Item 2 into one section.
- Added non-certified search box.
- Rearranged “unlapsed” and “all” records options in Item 2 to reflect the most common searches.
- Provides option check boxes in Item 2 to include or not include copies.
- Added check box to include other types of liens that can be found on the same search, if applicable.
- Deleted additional carbon copy pages.

We’re ready to talk.
